COUNCIL HAS A WARM DEBATE ON 'LID' ORDINANCE

Majority of Committee Refuses to Report at Time Set by Council; Hammond Makes Minority Report.

The So-called "Lid" ordinance—so named in getting off the mark last night, but it finally started on the way toward enactment, bypassing the votes of Alderman W. E. Switzer, Jerome, Gibson, Hammond, Gilbert and Host, voted for approval. The three commissioners already named voted against it.

The ordinance was approved upon its first reading when the council thought it had worked long enough and quit. Adjournment was late. Aldermen Angulo, Gibson, Hammond, Gilbert and Host voted for approval.

The ordinance's slow start was due to the failure of the majority of the ordinance committee, composed of Mr. Switzer and Mr. Haggard in this case, to report the measure. Mr. Switzer, chairman, announced that the committee was not prepared to report. Mr. Hammond insisted upon a report, calling attention to the instructions of the council to the committee, directing it to report at the meeting. This led to a spirited debate.

Dr. Host With Hammond.

Dr. Host lined up with Mr. Hammond in his demand for a report at that time. Dr. Host did not wish to be arbitrary, but this was a question as to whether the majority of the council ruled, he said. He said he was not willing that two men should stop legislation.

Mr. Hammond offered his explanation of the committee's failure to place the ordinance before the council. The senior alderman from the First ward, who is also a member of the ordinance committee, asserted that he had been asked at a meeting of the committee to sign a recommendation that the wisdom decision be referred to the council. He gave no connection between his refusal to sign and the committee's not reporting the ordinance.

Mr. Haggard took issue with Mr. Hammond, saying that he had not been asked to sign the recommendation. He was asked if he would approve it, said Mr. Haggard. Later Mr. Haggard said he expected to be ready to report last night, but that an anonymous hand had been responsible. Mr. Haggard made it clear that his attitude was not refusing to report at any time. He took the position, however, that the council did not have the right to set a time limitation the committee.

Subsidary Used.

Mr. Hammond pointed out that they did a minority report, favoring the passage of the ordinance. Dr. Host made the motion for its adoption. The report was adopted by vote of Dr. to three, the councilman being up to day. The next step was the reading of the ordinance. City Clerk Hagan announced that he could not sign it until he had received $30. Switzer and Mr. Haggard said they were not ready to report. Mr. Hammond then handed the document to Dr. Host.

Dr. Host, in making the motion to approve the ordinance, upon first reading inserted in his motion a clause to the effect that Mr. Hammond was to be considered the committee.
